

Her Story Podcast

In a media landscape crowded with surface-level conversations, Her Story Podcast distinguishes itself as a powerful and necessary platform for truth, healing, and resilience. Created to amplify the voices of women and men who have endured abuse, trauma, and life-altering challenges, the podcast offers more than storytelling; it offers solidarity.

Each episode invites listeners into deeply personal narratives that are shared with honesty, dignity, and purpose. Rather than sensationalizing pain, Her Story Podcast centers on growth, recovery, and the strength required to move forward. Guests speak candidly about their experiences while highlighting the lessons learned and the hope that emerges on the other side of adversity.

Her Story Podcast is not just something to listen to, it is something to feel, reflect on, and carry forward.

Founder Her Story, The Gathering Inc.

Introducing Katrina Staggers Harvin

In a world where many women carry stories of resilience quietly, Katrina Staggers Harvin is creating space for those stories to be heard, honored, and transformed. As the Founder and Visionary behind Her Story, The Gathering Inc., Katrina is leading a faith-centered movement dedicated to healing, empowerment, and community for women from all walks of life.

Her Story, The Gathering Inc. was birthed from Katrina’s personal journey, one marked by adversity, perseverance, and spiritual growth. Through her lived experiences and her work as an author, advocate, and community leader, Katrina recognized a critical need: safe spaces where women can share their truths without judgment, find strength in faith, and connect with others who understand the power of testimony.

At its core, Her Story is more than an organization, it is a gathering place. The nonprofit provides platforms through storytelling, community conversations, events, and digital media that uplift women who have endured trauma, loss, abuse, and life-altering challenges. Each initiative is designed to remind women that their experiences do not define their limitations, but rather their strength.

Katrina’s leadership blends compassion with purpose. She believes that healing begins when stories are spoken and supported within community. Through Her Story, The Gathering Inc., women are encouraged not only to share where they have been, but to rediscover who they are becoming. Faith is central to the mission, anchoring each program in hope, restoration, and forward movement. Continued...

As Founder, Katrina oversees the vision, strategy, and outreach of the organization, ensuring that every initiative aligns with its guiding principle: every story matters, and every woman deserves a place to heal and grow. Her work continues to open doors for honest dialogue, spiritual encouragement, and collective empowerment, locally and beyond.

This inaugural introduction marks the beginning of a broader conversation—one that invites women to step into their truth, gather in strength, and move boldly into purpose. Through Her Story, The Gathering Inc., Katrina Staggers Harvin is not only telling stories, she is building a legacy of healing, faith, and transformation.

Healing from past trauma is possible.

Anchor of Hope

Faith International Fellowship Ministries of High Point NC

Pastor Marvin Hester and Overseer Jeannette Hester will celebrate 22 years of dedicated leadership at Faith International Fellowship Ministries, alongside the faithful servants who have committed their time, service, and hearts to ministering and reaching people within the community.

Faith International Fellowship Ministries stands as a reminder that God often brings His greatest works from places others may question or underestimate. “Come and see.” — John 1:46

Faith International Fellowship Ministries is a ministry that has often been overlooked, taken for granted, and even cast aside by those who failed to recognize the depth of what God is doing within its walls.

Yet Scripture reminds us that God does not choose as people choose. He often works through what is dismissed, underestimated, or deemed insignificant to reveal His glory.

Though not always visible in the spotlight, Faith International Fellowship Ministries stands as a quiet but powerful beacon of love, light, and hope. It is a place where compassion is lived out, faith is nurtured, and lives are touched in ways that may never make headlines but leave lasting impact. The ministry’s strength lies not in recognition, but in obedience, perseverance, and unwavering trust in God’s purpose.

Looking ahead, FIFM is positioned for growth—not by human validation, but by divine direction. God’s hand continues to shape its future, opening doors for forward movement, deeper community outreach, and greater influence. What some have cast aside, God is preparing to use mightily. The future of Faith International Fellowship Ministries is forward-moving, purpose-driven, and firmly rooted in the promise that God finishes what He starts.
